RESISTANCE IN IRAN AT AN END

Shah's "As You Were" Order to Troops

WITH British and Soviet troops occupying vast areas of their territory, the new Iranian Government yesterday, according to the Teheran radio, ordered their forces to refrain from further resistance.

This decision, it was stated, was conveyed to the Iran Parliament, at an extraordinary meeting, by the new Premier, Ali Furanghi.

He said that the "Cease fire" order had been given to remove the causes of bloodshed and the disturbance of security, and to assure public peace and security.

Meanwhile British troops have penetrated 100 miles, in three days, into Iranian territory, and the Russians are now reported to be 75 miles south of Tabriz.

SOLDIER AND WATER DIVINER

Lieut.-General Edward Pellew Quinan, C.B., D.S.O., O.B.E., who is in command of the British and Indian forces in Iran, has had much experience on the Indian frontier, having spent 36 of his 56 years as an Indian Army officer. He is familiarly known as "Q."

An interesting sidelight is his professed proficiency as a water diviner.

NEW PREMIER'S SPEECH

Announcing the new Iranian Government's "Cease fire" order to the Iranian Forces the Premier, Ali Furanghi, told the Iran Parliament yesterday: "I accordance with the wishes of His Majesty I have been entrusted with the formation of a new Cabinet. I am, therefore, presenting the new Government to Parliament. The members of Parliament are well aware of the intentions of His Majesty in connection with the reform and progress of the country, which have been set forth repeatedly in the programme presented by the various Governments to Parliament.

"The present Government does not feel any need therefore to present a detailed programme of its policy. It is sufficient to bring to the knowledge of the Members of Parliament that we shall do our utmost to maintain good relations with the foreign Powers, and especially our neighbours, and continue the improvements which are the aims of His Majesty and the whole nation.

ORDER TO TROOPS

"I have to draw the attention of the respective members to a fact they already know well, namely, that the Government and people of Iran have always been, and continue to be, partisans of peace and peaceful relations with the rest of the world.

"In order that these intentions should be made clear to the world at large, we declare that at this moment, when the Governments of Soviet Russia and Great Britain have ordered certain actions to be taken, that the Government of Iran, in pursuance of the peace-loving policy of His Majesty, is issuing orders to all the armed forces of the country to refrain from any resistance, so that the causes for bloodshed and the disturbance of security shall be removed, and public peace and security assured.

"In these circumstances the nation, anxious about present developments, naturally expected that because of the complete confidence it has always had in its Government's peaceful intentions effective steps would have been taken immediately to maintain friendly relations with our two great neighbouring (sic) Governments—Britain and Russia. Now, with the advent of the new Cabinet, and because of the great confidence the nation has in the present Government, that hope will be increased."

Parliament, on a ballot vote, have given a unanimous vote of confidence to the Government.—(Reuter.)

EGYPT PLEASED

General satisfaction is expressed in Egypt at the speedy and almost bloodless ending to the Iranian campaign—probably the shortest on record. It is realised that the strategic position of Britain and Russia is immensely strengthened, and the weak link in the barrier barring German access to the Middle East and the Indian Ocean is now strengthened.

Useful new communications between Britain and Russia have also been opened up.

A communiqué from General Wavell's headquarters at Simla reported a speedy advance on all fronts by the Allied forces. This news earlier yesterday accompanied reports that general mobilisation of the Iranian Army had been ordered, and that the resignation of the Government to make way for Ali Furanghi's Ministry indicated an early and peaceful settlement, says Reuter. The mobilisation order was quoted in the Simla communiqué, which also disclosed that the British Legation in the Iranian capital was still in touch with the outside world.

One British column, General Wavell's communiqué disclosed, covered about 100 miles in three days. Operating southwards from Khanaquin, on the Iraqi border, north-east of Baghdad, it pushed through mountainous country along a single narrow road, drove off 2,000 Iranian troops occupying high ground east of Gilan, overcame road block defences and anti-tank guns, and occupied Shahabad.

PASS TAKEN

The northern column from Khanquin on Wednesday advanced through the famous fortified Paytak Pass, sweeping away opposition and reaching Karind, about twenty-one miles west of Shahabad, during the afternoon. Mopping-up has been completed at Khurramshahr, and everything is quiet at Abadan, "where the populace appeared to welcome our arrival."

British gunboats are moving up the Karun river, which is navigable up to Ahwaz, about 120 miles from Bandar Shahpur, the port at the head of the Persian Gulf, where British forces effected a successful landing on Monday. Further detachments have been landed at the port, the communiqué said, because British subjects at Bandar Mashur, about eight miles to the north-east, "are being threatened with arrest."

THE RED ARMY

The Simla communiqué stated that it was understood the Russian advance had encountered little opposition, and had reached a line Shut-Marand-Ardebil-Hevir. Latest news from Moscow in London indicated that the Soviet troops had penetrated fifty miles south of Tabriz to Turkmanchai, and had also reached Dakhargan, about thirty miles south of this Iranian railhead linking the Shah's country with the U.S.S.R. Moscow says that the troops were met with friendly greeting by the peasants and children as they advanced southwards.

First hint of the expected cessation of hostilities was contained in a Teheran message to Vichy, which said that the new Iranian Government had ordered the "cease fire." A German radio report said that the Premier, Ali Furanghi, had made an announcement to this effect to the Parliament in Simla, says a Reuter message.

LEGATION BONFIRE

It is considered possible that Turkey will agree to give passage through her territory to Germans leaving Iran, as in the case of Syria and Iraq, but it is pointed out that the Soviet occupation of Tabriz effectively blocks the only road from Iran to Turkey.

From Teheran it is reported that the Germans in the Iranian capital are taking refuge in their Legation, where a big bonfire twenty-four hours previously indicated that documents were being destroyed.

All American residents are safe.

"RUTHLESS BOMBING," IRANIANS SAY

A Teheran broadcast picked up in Cairo on Wednesday night, says Reuter, alleged that a large number of open cities were ruthlessly bombed by Soviet 'planes.

The announcer said: "Fifty 'planes came over and did damage to civilian property and caused many casualties. These destructive raids were not against military objectives, but peaceful undefended cities."

The Iranian announcer continued: "We raise our voices in protest at these atrocities and against the untruth spread abroad about us. We wish the whole world to know the truth."—(Associated Press.)

GERMAN COMMENT ON IRAN

Wilhelmstrasse comment on the ordering of the cessation of hostilities is, according to the German News Agency:—"It may be most aptly compared to the attitude, that a defenceless man attacked in his home by two bandits, would in the light of common sense take up. The whole episode should be a lesson for many nations, for such an attack on Iran was considered impossible in view of the declaration made by England."

The real explanation of the Anglo-Soviet action, says a Reuter telegram from Ankara, is the desire to ensure communications with Russia, writes M. Atay in the semi-official Ulus to-day. The fact that Iran has "become the object of such intervention has created a bitter impression in Turkey." The Iranian incident "drives home to the Germans the danger of allowing any further respite, such as winter, to the Red Army."—(Reuter.)

COMINGS AND GOINGS IN ANKARA

Ankara wireless reported last night that General Ismet Inonu, President of Turkey, received the German Ambassador (Franz von Papen) yesterday morning. The Turkish Foreign Minister (M. Sucru Saradjoglu) was present at the meeting.—(Associated Press.)

An Associated Press message from Ankara, dated Wednesday (delayed) states:—Britain and the United States to-day set a factual statement of their views before Turkish statesmen to counter Axis efforts. Five Ambassadors—from Britain, the United States, Germany, Italy and Iran—called on the Turkish Foreign Minister, Sucru Saradjoglu, in a few hours.

Considerable interest was attached to the visit to M. Sarajoglu of the American Ambassador, Mr. John Van A. MacMurray. This was described as simply to "give and get information," but it is known that the Turks are much impressed by American Lease-Lend efforts to aid the countries fighting Germany. Observers pointed out that Mr. MacMurray could have enlarged on increased American 'plane and tank deliveries to the Near East, and spiced his talk with intimate details of the Churchill-Roosevelt conference.

Axis sources intimated that mediation in Iran was in prospect with a view to "liquidating" the affair promptly.

Germany was highly interested in any "liquidation terms," because of the presence of from 600 to 3,000 German technicians and their families in Iran.

ROME NOT SURPRISED

Rome received the news of the end of the fighting in Iran without surprise, states the Stefani Agency, commenting that "the Government of Iran has been forced to yield to the armed force of two giants who have invaded the country with considerable forces."—(Reuter.)

U.S. MINISTER FOR LONDON

WASHINGTON, Thursday.—John D. Biggers, Production Director of the American Defence Programme, is being sent to London by President Roosevelt to synchronise British and American armament production. Mr. Biggers will have the rank of Minister and will work with Mr. Averill Harriman, "defence expediter," says the Associated Press.

President Roosevelt to-day issued an Order providing for a reorganisation of the administrative machinery for carrying out the Government's defence programme. The Order establishes a seven-man "Supply, Priorities and Allocations Board," headed by Mr. Wallace, the Vice-President.

U.S.-JAPANESE CONFERENCES

"MYSTERY" MESSAGE TO ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Thursday.—A personal message from Prince Konoye, the Japanese Premier, was delivered to President Roosevelt to-day by Admiral Nomura, the Japanese Ambassador in Washington. Admiral Nomura refused to make any statement concerning the contents of the Note.

When asked whether the note to President Roosevelt related to shipments of materials to Russia, Admiral Nomura said that he did not think so.

Admiral Nomura conferred with both President Roosevelt and Mr. Cordell Hull, the United States Secretary of State, at the White House.

Admiral Nomura evaded all questions from reporters as to whether his visit resulted in any improvement in Japanese-American relations. One reporter asked him: "Does this meeting bridge the gap between the two countries?" Admiral Nomura slapped him on the shoulder, and, smilingly, answered: "Ask the Secretary"—meaning Mr. Hull.—Reuter.

CONFERENCES

WASHINGTON, Thursday.—Mr Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, indicated to-day that the United States may hold a series of conferences with the Japanese on the differences between the two countries. There may be another conference, he said, similiar to that which took place at the White House to-day between President Roosevelt, Admiral Nomura and himself. The reason for such conferences, Mr. Hull explained, was to discuss in a more intimate and personal way outstanding United States-Japanese problems. Mr. Hull declined to comment in any way on Prince Konoye's note to the President, nor did he give any indication concerning its contents. All he would say was that he assumed that the President would answer it.

Asked whether he thought Prince Konoye's message would ease the situation in the Far East, Mr. Hull replied that it dealt with a general exchange of views relating to the affairs pending between the two Governments.—(Reuter.)

"AVOID CRISIS"

TOKYO, Thursday.—An appeal to the Japanese Government to "adopt courageously and resolutely a diplomatic offensive if peace is possible through diplomatic channels" is made to-day by Mr. Teichi Muto, widely-read political commentator of the Tokyo Hochis. Expressing doubt whether the Japanese Government has exhausted every possible diplomatic endeavour, Mr. Muto writes:—"Japan and other countries concerned have laid all their cards on the table. There is nothing left now but to talk things over frankly."

Mr. Muto adds, however:—"Japan must not stay on the fence long, if candid attempts to solve the emergency prove futile because other countries are lacking in a spirit of mutual compromise."—(Reuter.)

AGAINST JAPAN

LONDON Thursday.—An agreement for complete co-operation on trade measures against Japan has been formulated by Britain and the Dutch East Indies, according to a Batavian dispatch to Vrij Nederland, London. "It is not known what the agreement contains, but it is significant," says the correspondent, "that at least one Japanese tanker has left the oil harbour of Palembang in ballast."

BANGKOK, Thursday.—Thailand's Foreign Minister to-day, commenting on Japanese Press reports that his Government intends to keep mechanised forces on the newly-acquired Cambodian territory for one or two months more, in contravention of the Tokyo treaty, said:—"The Thai Government intends to carry out the letter of every provision of the peace convention concluded between Thailand and France at Tokyo."—(Reuter.)

WANT 'PLANES TO BOMB JAPAN

CHUNGKING, Thursday.—The authoritative Chinese paper, Ta Kung Pao, suggests that the High Commands of Britain, America, Russia and China "should consider the possibility of concentrating two or three thousand aircraft in the Western Pacific. The bombing of Osaka, Tokyo and Sasebo from Manila, Singapore and Vladivostock would bring disaster to Japan," it is stated. "Such a concentration would certainly bring Japan to her knees, since the Air Force is the weakest part of Japan's military forces," adds the paper.

New Chinese offensives are taking place in the four seaboard provinces of Chekiang, Fukien, Anhwei and Kiangsu. They claim to have captured Fuching and Kaoshun and demolished Japanese defence works in Yuhan and Wukang.—(Reuter.)

NEW SCALE OF CHARGES

IRISH BANKS' DECISION

In future the Irish banks will operate on a sliding scale of charges, and the standard charge of 10s. 6d. per half-year for current accounts is to be abolished as from October. Official notification of this was sent by individual banks to their customers yesterday afternoon.

The new scale, which brings the Irish banks into line with the English banking system, will be 10s. 6d. for fifty, or under, transactions in connection with current accounts for the half-year, one guinea for a hundred transactions, and so on up to a maximum of fifteen guineas per half-year. "Transaction" means in this connection a lodgment or the drawing of a cheque. "This means," said a bank manager last night, "that every time you draw a cheque it costs you under the new system 2½d., in addition to the 2d. Government tax. This may lead to small customers closing their current bank accounts and lodging their money in the Post Office, but then they will be depriving themselves of the advantages of the official receipt provided by a cheque."

The new system, this informant explained, would affect the larger companies, with, say, 5,000 transactions a year, more than the individual customer with a small current account. Also it would more fairly compensate the banks for labour expended on an account of a shopkeeper who lodged money, perhaps, as often as twice a day every week.

FOURTEEN NOW DEAD IN AIR CRASH

The death-roll in the Royal Air Force crash at Blackpool increased to 14—four airmen and ten civilians—with the death during Wednesday night of Jean Zeun, aged 5, of Condor Grove, Blackpool, and Miss Olive White (26), of Stanley place, Chorley. Their mothers are still in Victoria Hospital with twelve others, whose condition was stated yesterday to be about the same.

FALL OF DNIEPER CITY ADMITTED

GREAT DAM BLOWN UP BY RUSSIANS

THE Soviet communiqué to-day says that Russian troops have evacuated Dniepropetrovsk, near where, it has been disclosed officially, the Great Dnieper dam has been blown up.

Only yesterday evening the chief of the Soviet Information Bureau had denied the capture of Dniepropetrovsk, which is a great industrial centre on the Dnieper River bend. The dam, reported to have cost £100,000,000, produced electricity for industries in a vast area.

The Soviet communiqué also said that yesterday troops stubbornly fought the Germans along the whole front, while the Russian Air Force effected a successful raid on Koenigsberg, the East Prussian city.

Red Army forces led by General Koniev are successfully maintaining their counter-attack on the central sector of the eastern front, Moscow radio reported last night. In heavy fighting during the last few days a German infantry division has been annihilated, artillery captured, several more localities occupied, 3,000 German officers and men killed, and a German headquarters destroyed. In desperate attempts to fill the breach forced by the Russian attacks the Germans rushed up reinforcements, but these, too, suffered defeat. In one battle General Koniev's troops destroyed nearly 130 tanks and 100 motorised units.

Latest reports from this sector of the central front indicate that the Germans are making strenuous efforts to close up the gaps made in their defences, said Soviet War News last night. With great difficulty the German Command rushed up more tanks to the front line and attempted to launch a counter-blow. The infantry sent up from reserves proved to be powerless against the assault of Soviet troops. Tank after tank burst into flames. Deprived of their armoured defence the motorised infantry rushed about helplessly. A powerful attack from the Soviet side crushed the infantry. Soviet tanks then went out to meet the last wave of German tanks. Unable to withstand the heavy onslaught the Germans rolled back, abandoning smashed and burning tanks. The battle, which lasted several hours, brought the Soviet troops more than 70 German tanks destroyed, and the German attempt to break the offensive ended in failure.

BEFORE ODESSA

Fierce fighting continues before the Black Sea port of Odessa, Moscow radio also said last night. Life goes on normally, but the people are busy preparing to defend their homes against the Germans if and when they reach the city.

Two armoured trains have been built in the city and handed over to the armed forces. "One of them has already become the terror of the enemy," the Moscow announcer added, "having broken through far into the Fascist rear and destroyed some enemy detachments."

A special appeal, issued to the Red Army soldiers by the commanders and political leaders at the front, says:—"You, Red Army men, are entrusted by the Soviet people with a high task of honour and courage—the defence of the City of Odessa. The enemy dashes about at the approaches to Odessa like a mad animal, and the German Fascists are trying, by all means possible, to break through to the sunny streets of the city. A great danger threatens Odessa. Fight unselfishly, firmly, fearlessly and emphatically, as the great Stalin taught us to, to the last drop of blood. Defend our great Black Sea harbour, the beautiful Odessa."

IN THE BALTIC

Amplifying yesterday's German High Command communiqué, military sources in Berlin—according to the German News Agency—commented that the situation at the front on the Gulf of Finland "is now approaching a decision," and German troops have "succeded in taking possession of the remainder of Northern Estonia, except the islands of Oesel and Dagoe."

The harbours and naval bases of Tallinn and Baltic port are now being contested, but it may be assumed, it was said, that they will shortly fall, leaving the Soviets only these two islands and the base of Hangoe on the outer coast of the Gulf of Finland.

"Moreover, the area around Leningrad has been so reduced by the German thrust from the west, south and south-east that at some points German troops are already 50 kilometres (30 miles) before Leningrad," it was added. "As the Finnish thrust on the Karelian isthmus, between Lake Ladoga and the Gulf of Finland, is continuously gaining ground to the south, the defence of Leningrad is becomming increasingly difficult. The only fairly large town north of Leningrad, Viborg-Viipuri, is already encircled.

"The Soviets, therefore, has only Kronstadt and Leningrad as naval bases at the furthermost end of the Gulf of Finland at their disposal," the commentator added, claiming that successful mining operations in these waters and the continuous action of the Luftwaffe and the Finnish Navy against Soviet convoys in the Gulf of Finland are "already making the communications of the Soviet troops with their outposts difficult."

"Their complete breakdown—after the fall of Tallinn and Baltic port—may be presumed," it was added. "Decisions of great significance are under way in the eastern Baltic, which are expected to result in the Soviet dislodgement from the Baltic area."

The Russian communiqué this morning recorded that 37 German 'planes were destroyed on August 26th, and not 17, as previously announced. In the course of August 27th, 41 German 'planes were brought down in air combat. Twenty-three Soviet 'planes were lost. In the Baltic Sea, Russian 'planes sank two German transports.

BATTLE FOR CITY DESCRIBED

The Soviet Information Bureau, in the supplement to this morning's communiqué, also admitted the evacuation of the Ukranian town "N," presumed to be Dniepropetrovsk. After fierce fighting, and at a tremendous cost to the enemy, it said, the enemy twice attempted to storm the first lines of the city's defences, but each time was repulsed, sustaining heavy losses. Anti-tank gun batteries destroyed eighteen enemy tanks, and over 1,500 soldiers were annihilated by artillery and machine-gun fire. Into the third attack the Fascists hurled a regiment of the S.S. division. In a pitched battle a Soviet unit annihilated up to 500 officers and men of this regiment. On the third day of the fighting Russian troops occupied new positions within the boundaries of the city, and with singular gallantry the Red Army and members of the People's Volunteer Force defended every street.

"At first the Fascist tanks broke into Nikolaievskaia street, where the leading tanks struck a mine and blew up," said the Soviet Bureau. "The two following tanks tried to drive round the destroyed tanks, but were showered with hand grenades and fuel bottles and burned down. Several more enemy tanks broke into the centre of the town along Frunze street, and came under the fire of anti-tank guns. Four smashed tanks blocked the street. Other tanks which were jammed in the street were destroyed with hand grenades.

STREET FIGHTING

"Fierce fighting broke out in Pushkin street," the Bureau went on. "Men of one unit allowed six enemy tanks to pass, but when the German infantry showed up they were met with machine-gun fire. Over 150 German officers and men were left lying on the pavement. In every street the Fascists were met with bullets, grenades, shells and mines. Fierce street fighting continued for sixteen hours. True heroism and valour in the defence of the town were displayed by members of the Peoples' Volunteer Force. On the outskirts and in the streets of the town the Fascists lost over 5,000 officers and men killed and wounded, about 40 tanks and armoured cars, up to 20 guns, many machine-guns and 100 lorries.

GERMAN CLAIM

Meanwhile, the German radio yesterday said that an attempt by Soviet sappers to regain a footing on the western bank of the Lower Dnieper was beaten back. Pontoons put up by the Russians were destroyed, it was said. In the central sector "local relief attacks by Soviet forces were," the German broadcaster claimed, "all frustrated."

The Associated Press says that from Moscow it is reported that the Soviet High Command is planning its winter campaign, which includes that Russian cities should become self-sufficient, while untouched reserves of soldiers are being trained in specialised winter tactics.

Ankara Radio last night quoted an unconfirmed report from Stockholm that Tallinn, capital of Estonia, had been evacuated by the Soviet forces. The Stockholm report added that the town had not been occupied, because it was difficult to take a city which is burning from one end to the other.

German Wireless claimed last night that German aircraft badly damaged a Soviet destroyer and a 4,000 tons merchant ship in the Gulf of Finland on Wednesday. Two large Soviet transports were claimed to have been hit in the Arctic Sea. The pilots reported that the ships were more than half submerged when last seen.

AIR ACTIVITY IN MIDDLE EAST

EXPLOSIONS AND FIRES AT TRIPOLI

"Fighters of the Royal Air Force and the Fleet Air Arm engaged a number of Messerschmitts 109's which attempted to attack our shipping in the Mediterranean on August 26. Three of the enemy aircraft were shot down," said yesterday's Royal Air Force Middle East communiqué.

"During the night of August 26-27 heavy bombers attacked the dock areas at Tripoli and Benghazi. About fifteen tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped at Tripoli. Several violent explosions occurred and many fires were started in the docks and near the wireless station. One particularly large blaze at the military stores was visible 120 miles away.

"Medium bombers of the South African Air Force attacked a concentration of enemy mechanical transport near Ras Uenna yesterday (August 27). Bombs were seen falling among the vehicles.

"Two unidentified enemy aircraft dropped incendiary bombs on Malta during the night of August 26-27. Both aircraft were illuminated by searchlights and attacked by our fighters. Both were hit and one engine of each of them was set on fire. One was losing height rapidly and the other had its undercarriage down as they flew towards the Sicilian coast.

"From all these operations two of our fighters are missing."

SUEZ CANAL AREA BOMBED

An official report from Cairo announces that an air raid took place in the Suez Canal area on Wednesday night. Bombs were dropped, killing seven persons and injuring thirty. Only slight damage was caused.—(Reuter.)

"Aircraft of the Bomber Command on Wednesday night again made a heavy attack on Mannheim," says an Air Ministry communiqué. Small raids were also made upon other targets in Western Germany and upon the docks at Boulogne, Ostend and Dunkirk.

"None of our aircraft is missing."

OFFENSIVE OVER NORTHERN FRANCE

British bombers have carried out a number of offensive patrols over Northern France during yesterday, said an official statement. "Blenheims, with a fighter escort, attacked shipping in the docks at Rotterdam late in the afternoon.

"Seven bombers and five fighters are missing."

BERLIN, Thursday.—A British Vickers-Wellington bomber was shot down by naval gunfire over the Channel Coast to-day, according to the official German News Agency.—(Reuter.)

LIGHT RAIDS ON ENGLAND

The Air Ministry yesterday stated:—"During Wednesday night a small number of enemy aircraft flew over the East Coast of England. Bombs were dropped at a few points, but no damage or casualties have been reported.

"An enemy bomber was destroyed during the night of Tuesday."

MURCIA (SPAIN), Thursday.—Six people were killed and another forty injured to-day, when a 'bus crashed through road barriers and over a cliff outside the town of Letor, in the Murcia Province of Spain.—Associated Press.

SIX DEAD IN SEA RESCUE BID

FOUR BOATS CAPSIZE GOING TO 'PLANE

HUNDREDS of holiday-makers stood on the shore at Rhosneigr, Anglesey, yesterday, and watched a sea rescue bid, which is believed to have cost six men their lives.

One after the other, four boats put out when a Royal Air Force 'plane came down in the rough sea. It was only a quarter of a mile out, but every boat capsized before reaching it. A human chain was formed, but was swept back by the heavy seas. Aeroplanes flying overhead dropped life-saving jackets to the men as they struggled in the water. Two of the Royal Air Force crew who baled out reached the shore safely.

A rowing-boat manned by two men first put out, but before they had got near the 'plane the boat overturned. They clung to the boat, and were washed ashore in an exhausted condition. Six soldiers and Police Constable Arthur and a local officer in the merchant service named Owen went out in a second boat, but this also capsized. A soldier swam out and grasped an oar to which two soldiers were clinging. They were almost unconscious, but revived under artificial respiration. Shortly afterwards the body of Police Constable Arthur, in full uniform and still wearing his helmet, was washed ashore.

In the meantime a third boat had put out in an attempt to reach some of the other men. This was also overturned. A fourth boat, brought twelve miles from Holyhead by motor lorry, was launched, but was also capsized, and one of the oarsmen named Evans, a member of the Holyhead life-saving crew, was drowned. Only the body of a member of the aeroplane crew had been recovered up to a late hour.

THE SHOT FRENCH STATESMEN

LIVES NOT IN DANGER

VICHY, Thursday.—The latest bulletin on the condition of M. Pierre Laval states that his general condition is "satisfactory," although he is not allowed visitors, apart from his wife and daughter, who arrived at his bedside during the afternoon.

The wounds of M. Marcel Deat, the former French Minister, who was shot at the same time as M. Laval, are serious. He was wounded in the stomach. He, too, is forbidden visitors, but a later report stated that his life is in no danger. The bulletin stated: "M. Laval stood the surgical operation well. The general condition is satisfactory. Marcel Deat bore the operation well."

A report following an X-ray examination said that M. Laval is "suffering from a flesh wound in the middle of the right arm, as well as an internal wound in the right hand. Another bullet entered the body about three inches from the right breast and stopped above the heart."

The report on M. Deat explains that he has a wound in the lower part of the body. After his condition had become worse last night, an operation was carried out successfully for the removal of the bullet.

The Press in Paris blames not only the Communists for the shooting, but British Jews.

Laval's assailant, Paul Colette, said to be a member of the Communist Party, is being interrogated in prison.—(Reuter.)

When Collette learned that Marcel Deat was wounded he said: "I did not know, but I am certainly glad I got him." Detailing the circumstances of the shooting, he said: "When the group arrived opposite me I pulled out of my pocket the revolver I had been gripping between my fingers since the instant before and without trying in any way to hide myself I fired several bullets in the direction of Laval. I saw that I had hit him seriously."—(Associated Press.)

MANY ARRESTS IN PARIS

THREE COMMUNISTS EXECUTED

VICHY, Thursday.—The Paris and Versailles police were reported to-day to have rounded up more than 300 Communists in a swift, intensive campaign to prevent the shooting of M. Pierre Laval and M. Marcel Deat from signalling general disorder throughout France.

The Paris special Anti-Communist Court sentenced to death three men and imposed hard labour terms ranging from ten years down on several others.

M. Fernand de Brinon, Ambassador to Germany, said that 3,250 Communists, not including Jews, had been rounded up in the Paris region from July 1 to August 25 in an effort to crush the wave of disorder and railway sabotage

The three Communists were guillotined at dawn in Sante Prison in Paris.—(Associated.)

NINE DAYS IN A LIFEBOAT

AIRMEN'S LUCKY FIND IN ATLANTIC

With petrol for only five minutes' flying left, no ship in sight and land many miles away, the outlook seemed grim for the crew of a naval aircraft out over the Atlantic.

The aircraft, which had been out on patrol, ran into bad weather and failed to find the carrier from which it was operating, says the British Air Ministry News Service. Just at the moment when the aircraft was down to a few hundred feet an empty lifeboat was sighted. The pilot was able to put his 'plane down on the water close to the boat, and the three airmen swam across. Their luck still held. They were delighted to find that the lifeboat contained ample supplies of blankets, food, water, cigarettes, and even a bottle of brandy. There were also a mast, sail and a boat's compass, all in good condition.

The airmen shipped the mast and set sail, shaping a rough course for land. On the fifth day of their voyage they came up with a lifeboat carrying shipwrecked Danish seamen. The airmen handed over food and cigarettes to the sailors, but, unable to agree on the best course to steer, the two boats parted company.

On their ninth day in the boat the airmen saw a ship loom up out of the thick mist. They fired Verey lights, and were rescued.

Apart from slightly swollen feet, due to exposure, the airmen were little the worse for their adventure. They found that they had sailed 200 miles towards land. The lucky lifeboat was later identified as coming from a torpedoed ship.—(Press Association.)

COOKED MEALS SERVICE

WHO WILL FOOT THE BILL?

TAXPAYER, RATEPAYER—OR DINER?

(SPECIAL "IRISH TIMES" NEWS.)

WHO is to pay the bill for equipping and running Ireland's community kitchens in the coming winter? The Dublin Corporation Joint Purposes Committee and the Limerick City Manager (Mr. J. J. Berkery) both resent the suggestion that the ratepayers should be asked to bear the whole burden. They maintain that the Government should make itself fully responsible.

The Irish Times is able to reveal today that the Government, in giving special powers to local authorities throughout the country, has no intention of "hedging" in the matter of financial responsibility. It will not, however, issue a general carte blanche to local authorities in connection with expenditure.

The question involved is partly that of the eternal battle between ratepayer and taxpayer—but in this instance a third factor enters. Neither the Government and/or any local authority will alone be asked to foot the bill for communal feeding. The third party will be the communal feeder himself. The Corporation will have power to charge for meals supplied by the "Cooked Meals Service."

Apart from the utterly destitute, who will have to be fed anyhow, the people who will make use of the "Cooked Meals Service" will be you and I and all of us. And we will have to pay.

CORPORATION'S VIEWS

The deputation recently appointed by the Dublin Corporation Committee to discuss the communal meals plan with the Taoiseach submitted its report last Monday. Exception was taken to the implication that the whole scheme should be managed and financed by the Corporation. According to the report, Mr. de Valera's only promise of Government assistance was to the effect that a limited number of field kitchens would be placed at the Corporation's disposal.

Councillor Milroy, Chairman of the General Purposes Committee, expressed disagreement with the view that the ratepayers should accept unlimited financial responsibility for what is clearly an emergency national service.

Nobody, he said, could measure the extent of possible demands. They might "conceivably amount to £100,000, or even a much higher figure." If the Corporation were to shoulder the responsibility, what hope was there that donations would be forthcoming from individuals and voluntary agencies?

Mr. J. J. Berkery, Limerick City Manager, as reported yesterday, said that the Government's communication on the subject seemed to mean that the financing of the community meals was to be carried out on income derived from those who made use of the kitchens, and in the event of a deficiency the loss was to be borne from the rates.

ACTUAL POSITION

Actually, the position is that the Government will be prepared to guarantee all authorised capital expenditure, as and when it becomes necessary. This intention is made clear by the Government's action regarding the field kitchens.

There is no question of a limited number being available. Mr. de Valera's reference to field kitchens was prompted by the fact that, at the time, they were the only expense items envisaged by the Government. A letter from the Minister for Local Government authorised the Dublin Corporation to erect field kitchens with a capacity of approximately 50,000 daily meals.

The Department was stated to be prepared to make a suitable contribution towards the cost of the equipment, which was to be obtained through the Department of Defence.

The Corporation was further requested to make arrangements for transport from the field kitchens to the distributing centres.

It is not anticipated that capital expenditure will be very large. Existing equipment can handle the supply of a vast number of meals. And the official intention is to make the scheme entirely self-supporting.

THE WORK GOES ON

Questioned yesterday about the possibility of Boards of Assistance issuing meals tickets and reimbursing the Corporation for expenses incurred, the Dublin City Manager, Mr. P. J. Hernon, pointed out that such Boards would simply get it all back again in their annual demands.

"The whole question of finance is very obscure at the moment," said Mr. Hernon. "But the main thing is that the work is going on."

KEROSENE (PARAFFIN OIL)

NOTICE TO DOMESTIC USERS

Paraffin oil will be available in limited quantities for domestic or household purposes in September, when it will be possible to purchase up to half a gallon. Nobody may, however, obtain a supply unless he is registered with a licensed retailer.

Practically all retailers who applied have now received their licences. A domestic user who requires paraffin oil should register immediately with his normal retailer, having made certain that the retailer is licensed.

To effect registration all that is required is to apply in writing to the licensed retailer. No special form of application is necessary.

It is illegal for a person who is the occupier of premises equipped with gas or electricity to register or to purchase paraffin oil for household purposes.

It is a breach of the Emergency Powers Order to register with more than one licensed retailer or to give false or misleading information for the purpose of obtaining paraffin oil. A person infringing the Order renders himself liable to heavy penalties.

PEDIGREE SHEEP SALE

GOOD PRICES AND FULL CLEARANCE

The Irish Pedigree Sheep Breeders' Association's annual show and sale yesterday was a marked success. The auctioneers, Messrs. Gavin Low, disposed of practically everything on offer at good prices, and the show revealed fine quality animals. Mr. Harry Franks took first, second and third prizes for Border Leicesters, and Mr. R. J. Downes won all the way in Oxford classes.

BORDER LEICESTERS—Shearling ram (Harry Franks, Westfield, Mountrath), to Robert Craigie, St. Margaret's, at 16½ guineas; to Mr Crawford, at 20½ guineas; to Mr. Itoey, Julianstown, at 10 guineas.

In the same class Mr. Crawford bought a shearling ram for 15 guineas, and the Earl of Wicklow bought another shearling ram for 9 guineas.

OXFORD DOWNS—Shearling ram (R. J. Downes, Russelstown, Mullingar), to T. E. Colohan, Ballinasloe, at 11 guineas; to Mr. Dolan, Ballinasloe, at 10 guineas.

Other offers in this class (by the Agricultural Station, Athenry, Co. Galway) were shearling rams bought by Luke Nolan, Killucan, at 11 guineas; bought by A. H. Hodgins, Kilbeggan, at 8½ guineas; bought by R. J. Downes, Mullingar, at 8 guineas. Three other shearling rams fetched 6¼ guineas, the buyers being F. Mulholland and T. Nolan, Ahascragh, Co. Galway.

SUFFOLKS—Two shearling rams (shown by Messrs. J. McCulloch and Sons, Gerrardstown, Ballyboughal, Co. Dublin) were sold at 12 guineas and 8 guineas, the first to Luke Nolan, Killucan, and the other to T. Austin, Batterstown, Co. Meath.

Three ram lambs were sold at 10, 9 and 5 guineas each, respectively, to F. Wright, Castlereagh; J. Walsh, Long, Co. Meath; and Mrs. Saunders, Brannockstown, Co. Kildare.

Ewes offered by Major J. W. Aylmer, Courtown, Kilcock, Co. Kildare, made from 54/- to 60/-, and lambs 40/-.

'BUSMEN IN ARMS

NEW L.D.F. UNIT FORMED

A 'bus driver, despite his peaceful avocation, looks a very dangerous individual with a rifle in his hand. About 200 of them are at present undergoing military training in the use of that weapon. Yesterday at Ballsbridge the men were making whole-hearted endeavours to become proficient in the use of firearms.

These omnibus drivers have joined the Local Defence Force as a special unit. Those living on the north side of the city train at Collins Barracks and residents on the southern side do their exercises in the Royal Dublin Society's premises at Ballsbridge.

The Dublin United Transport Company is one of the first industrial or commercial bodies to raise a special L.D.F. unit from it own employés.

These men's special service would be that of drivers of commandeered 'buses in a case of emergency. Mr. J. B. Martin is group leader of the unit, whose training is in the hands of Commandant P. T. MacDonagh, staff officer-in-charge, and Captain Philip Williams, training officer. Both officers consider this 'bus drivers' unit of the L.D.F. a most promising force.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT

JUSTICE AND CITY "TOSS" SCHOOLS

A juvenile of 14 years, one of two charged in the Dublin District Court yesterday with the larceny of money, said that he frequented a "toss" school.

Mr. Lennon said he was led to believe that there were toss schools around Dublin where hundreds of pounds changed hands. At Continental gaming places such a young boy would not be admitted. There were no State gambling places here, but there was the "under the Heaven" school, the oldest established of all, where there was no objection to boys joining in the games. The man operating the "fek" at such schools made a very handsome living and paid no income tax.

The boys were bound over for three years.

STOLEN APPLES

John Lord, a yardman, of Convent avenue, Fairview, was charged on remand in the District Court yesterday with breaking into a workshop at the rear of Merville Villas, Convent avenue, and stealing 8 stone of apples belonging to W. J. Campbell, Richmond road.

He pleaded guilty, and said that when he stole the apples he did not know what to do with them. He thought of feeding horses with them, but decided to sell them. He got 10/- for them.

Mr. Lennon bound Lord to the peace for one year, and ordered him to pay £3 15/- compensation and witnesses' expenses, and put £2 in the Poor Box.

FUNERAL

MR. JOHN HERLIHY

The funeral of Mr. John Herlihy, Barrister-at-Law, of 41 Nutley Park, Dublin, took place yesterday to Glasnevin after 10 o'clock Mass, celebrated by the Rev. T. B. Ryan, C.C., at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Donnybrook.

The chief mourners were:—Mrs. N. Herlihy (widow); Messrs. J. and W. H. Herlihy (brothers); Mr. H. Murphy and Miss H. O'Leary (cousins); Mr. D. J. Byrne (father-in-law); the Misses Doreen and Sheila Byrne (sisters-in-law); Messrs. Denis, Desmond and Brendan Byrne (brothers-in-law); Mrs. D. Byrne, Mrs. H. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Morrissey and Mr. S. Morrissey (relatives).

The attendance included also the Rev. E. A. Conran, St. Peter's, Phibsborough; the Rev. Brother Brendan O'Herlihy, LL.D.; the Rev. Liam O Domhnaill, Mr. Eamonn de Valera, Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly and Mrs. O'Kelly, Mr. J. P. Walshe, Mr. F. Aiken and Mrs. Aiken, Mr. William T. Cosgrave, T.D.; Mr. D. CHILD'S DEATH AFTER ACCIDENT

A verdict of accidental death, no blame being attached to anyone, was recorded at an inquest held yesterday by the Deputy City Coroner (Dr. J. P. Shanley) at the Richmond Hospital on Brendan Nolan, aged 3, of 5 Montague Court, Dublin. Brendan Nolan had been playing in the street, when he was knocked down by a boy running away from a motor lorry and sustained a fractured skull.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE BEQUESTS
In the Goods of
THE RIGHT HONOURABLE ANDREW JAMESON, D.L., late of Sutton House, Sutton, Co. Dublin, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to 30 and 31 Victoria Cap. 54, that the above-named Andrew Jameson, who died on 15th February, 1941, by his Will dated the 19th of February, 1940, bequeathed to the Representative Body of the Church of Ireland the sum of £600 free of legacy duty to be applied for the use and benefit of the Parish of Howth for such purposes and in such manner in all respects as the Select Vestry for the said Parish should think fit, and he thereby directed that his Executors should be at liberty to transfer to the Representative Church Body such trust securities as he might be possessed of at the time of his death as they might select, and as the Representative Church Body might approve of, equivalent in value as at the date of his death to the said sum.

And the said Andrew Jameson by a Codicil dated the 30th of March, 1940, to his said Will bequeathed to the trustees of the Municipal Gallery of Modern Art, Charlemont House, Dublin, the carved marble group man and woman with lyre, and the portrait of John Hughes by Walter Osborne, all to be used by them in such manner as they should think fit for the benefit of the public.

Probate of said Will and two Codicils was on the 18th of August, 1941, granted forth of the Principal Probate Registry of the High Court of Justice in Eire to Major Thomas William Kirkwood, of Sutton House, Sutton, County Dublin, and Captain George Lionel Jameson, of Raheny Park, Raheny, Dublin, the Executors named in said Will.

Dated this 26th day of August, 1941.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE BEQUESTS.
In the Goods of
WILLIAM TRENCH KIRKPATRICK, late of Donacomper, Celbridge, County Kildare, Barrister-at-Law, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Statute 30 and 31 Vic., cap 54, that the above-named Deceased, by his Will dated the 11th day of July, 1928, made and bequeathed the following bequests for charitable purposes:—

To the Representative Body of the Church of Ireland, incorporated under the name of the Representative Church Body, the sum of £500 to apply the income thereof towards the assessment of the Parish of Celbridge.

To the same body the sum of £200, to apply the income thereof towards the assessment of the Parish of Kiltegan.

To the same body the sum of £200, to apply the income thereof towards the assessment of the Parish of Moyne (Union of Preban and Moyne).

To trustees appointed by the Select Vestry of Christ Church, Celbridge, the sum of £100, to be invested by them and the yearly interest to be paid to the School fund of the Celbridge Parochial Protestant School, or to such other purpose as the Select Vestry may from time to time determine.

Deceased died on the 10th day of April, 1941, and Probate of his Will (with one Codicil thereto) was, on the 21st day of July, 1941, granted forth of the Principal Probate Registry in the High Court of Justice, Eire, to Ivone Augustine Kirkpatrick, C.M.G., the surviving Executor therein named.

Dated this 26th day of August, 1941.

The Eastern Front

Conflicting news, as usual, comes from Russia It is evident that General Budyenny has abandoned hope of further resistance on the western bank of the Dnieper—except at Odessa; for the official bureau of information has confirmed the rumour that the great dam at Novoye Zaporozhe—one of the chief glories of modern Russia—has been blown up, and the evacuation of Dniepropetrovsk has just been admitted by a Soviet communiqué. In the north the pressure upon Leningrad continues. Thrusting from west, south and south-east, the Germans profess to have penetrated—they do not say at what point—to within 32 miles of the city. It is rumoured that Viipuri, on the Karelian isthmus, has been encircled by Finnish troops, while heavy attacks are being delivered upon Tallinn, in Estonia, where Soviet troops constitute a sort of "Tobruk" behind the German advance. The progress of General Koniev's counter-attack in the neighbourhood of Gomel, in the great central sector, has been a mystery for days; but to-night come conflicting stories—one from the Germans, to the effect that it has been halted effectively, another from the Russians, that it is being maintained with high success. To a large extent, the German hopes of a rapid and victorious conclusion to the Ukrainian campaign depend upon the progress made in this sector; for, if the Panzer divisions can once burst through, they will place Kharkov in serious danger, and thence, advancing southwards, they may be able to deliver a flank assault upon Marshal Budyenny's troops across the Dnieper. Speed is the prime essential, since they are running a race against winter. Germany is by no means a warm country in winter, but it is warm in comparison with Russia, and the approach of the snows is certain to hamper the German troops as much as it will help the Russians, who are better suited both by nature and by training to endure such rigours.

Nobody, except himself, can tell whether Herr Hitler really hoped to have paralysed Russia before winter, or whether he foresaw the possibility of a protracted campaign and has made provision for it. In either event, the prospect of a winter campaign must be a cause of greater or less disquiet. By all the rules of logic, it is inconceivable that he should attempt an invasion of England while so many millions of troops are immobilised on the eastern front—although Mr. Churchill has given his people a plain warning that their danger does not end with the coming of September. Otherwise, however, he must permit the British to accumulate stores of war material, to train additional brigades, and to raise their industries to a higher pitch of organisation. He gives them time, too, to join hands with the Russians via Iran, and thereby to bring them munitions with which to fight afresh when spring returns. Either he took all these risks with his eyes open or he was misinformed sadly concerning the spirit and efficiency of the Russian forces. Within the next month or six weeks it should be possible to decide whether the greatest military venture in his career has worked according to schedule or has been the greatest failure in his career. The destiny of future generations of all Europe lies in three points on the map—Dniepropetrovsk, Gomel and Leningrad.

Salzburg and Elsewhere

Nowadays the prevailing excuse, mitigation, evasion or explanation begins with the words, "If it wasn't for the war." "If it wasn't for the war," many housewives in Dublin would have been forced by the weather of certain recent days into a premature rekindling of the winter's fires. "If it wasn't for the war," tea would be stronger and sweeter, and diet more plentifully diversified. "If it wasn't for the war," the musical festival at Salzburg would be drawing to a close, and worshippers at the shrine of Mozart would be facing the dark months to come with their spirits refreshed and their bodies rejuvenated; for the music was not the only attraction that the Austrian town offered. Some years ago Count Ferdinand Czernin wrote a book about it, and mentioned that the only reply to the question "Why Salzburg?" was: "It is August." All the things that one expected to find in the Austrian Tyrol were to be found in Salzburg, though it was protested that inhabitants of the place were not Tyrolese, but Salzburgians. Nevertheless, Salzburg offered the shaving brushes upon people's hats, the leather shorts, the bare hairy chests, the charmingly guttural pronunciation of the English language, and the lovely "Schuhplatter," translated as "thigh-slapping-dance." Salzburg also offered amusing cafés, excellent food, and a certain amount of sport, including chamois hunting—though hunting for festival tickets was said to be a more famous pastime. Anyway, all that belongs to the past. Two years ago Salzburg was the centre of the International Motor Cycle Six Days trial, in which British, German and Italian teams were competing in friendly rivalry until, with war but a few days away and with the recall of military riders to their regiments, the British teams were instructed to "make for Switzerland" with all possible speed. That was Salzburg's last great August memory. Salzburg, however, was only one of the many continental centres of recreation, amusement and intellectual stimulation that have suffered in the last two summers. School-children no longer have been taking part in Anglo-French conversations on the beaches at Deauville and Dinard; Americans no longer produce huge rolls of cent-franc, and even mille-franc, bills in the cafés of Paris, Nice and Monte Carlo; English tourists no longer gaze upon the Seven Mountains as their steamer sails up the Rhine; liners no longer push into the Mediterranean with holiday-makers thronging their decks; Vesuvius is neglected, Capri deserted, Corsica unvisited by all except the people who live there; the Dalmatian coast is a scene of battle's aftermath. Holidays at home have been a compensation, no doubt. Yet, "if it wasn't for the war," there would have been so many other amusing places to go.

The Cyclist's Obligation

The cycling boom of the "'nineties" would have lasted longer had it not been for the coming of the motor-car. In the days before concrete roads and the admirable surfaces that we know to-day replaced the water-bound highways of the period of horse-drawn traffic, the dust created by the early motor-cars proved a source of irritation to the cyclist, and, later, the indifference of many motorists to the cyclist's road rights combined with the dust nuisance to deplete very seriously the ranks of the riders on two wheels. Recently cycling has come back into its own. Many people who used to drive cars have taken to it in order to preserve their petrol ration or because they can afford no longer to bear the running costs of their automobiles. One of the results has been a more generous understanding of the cyclist's difficulties by those who continue to motor, and the "good-will of the road" is a phrase that again may mean something like what it meant thirty-five to forty years ago. Cyclists now are as important as motorists, not only because there are more of them, but also because of the place that their machines occupy as an instrument of mechanical travel. That importance carries an obligation—a fact that many cyclists of to-day apparently fail to understand. In the last few weeks there have been several minor accidents, due to cyclists' omission to carry lights in the evening, and, obviously, serious attention to this remissness must be given by the police. The cyclist may feel that with so few motor cars on the roads he can take a risk of not being run down in the darkness; but he overlooks the fact that pedestrians on the roads are entitled to protection against his machine. Both in the city of Dublin and in the country districts around it, the law of the land in regard to lights on bicycles is ignored by far too many riders—possibly, by more than 50 per cent. of those who travel awheel after dark. There is potential danger here, both to the cyclists themselves and to other road users. In the present emergency the cyclist is entitled to encouragement, but only so long as he shows an appreciation of his duties to society and does not make a nuisance of himself.

WINTER FUEL PROBLEM

TO-NIGHT'S MEETING IN DUBLIN

Speakers at to-night's meeting of Dublin citizens at the Molesworth Hall, called to discuss the winter fuel problem, will include Miss Louie Bennett (Irish Women Workers' Union), Mr. James Larkin, junior, and Mr. J. Swift (Dublin Council of Action); Mr. R. Connolly (Bray Parish Council), and Mr. R. N. Tweedy.

To ensure that the greatest possible amount of turf not needed for the coming winter in the "non-coal districts" shall be brought to Dublin it will be suggested that all forms of mechanically propelled transport suitable for plying upon roads, rails and inland waterways shall be taken over by the State for this purpose. The suggestion that all private petrol-driven vehicles should be prohibited forthwith will also be examined.

Resolutions will be submitted calling for the vesting of all bogs in the State under the administration of a remodelled Turf Board, and for the taking of immediate steps to set in motion a national plan for the preparation of sufficient bog areas in the Midland belt to provide not less than 6,000,000 tons of turf for use after the next cutting season.

COAL FOR THRESHING

ADDITIONAL 25 CWTS. WEEKLY FOR EACH SET

In connection with the demand of the farmers for more coal for threshing, the Minister for Agriculture last night announced that the Minister for Supplies had arranged to give permits for the purchase of 25 cwt. of coal per week in respect of each threshing set. This is in addition to the four tons of coal in respect of each set for which permits have already been issued.

The Minister stresses the point that this coal is intended for steam raising and travelling from farm to farm, and does not relieve the farmers of the responsibility of providing the main supply of fuel for the threshing of their crops.

A HOME-MADE CANDLE

Costing only a penny per night, and made of a half-pound of mutton suet blended into a quarter-pound of lard, a very economical and useful candle has been made at Mullagh, Co. Cavan, writes a correspondent. The ingredients, when blended, are placed in a round, tin box, about an inch high and four inches wide, a stout cord or peeled rush being used as wick. Reading and housework can easily be done in a fair-sized room by the aid of this candle. When placed in a hurricane lamp or tin can this home-made product should go a long way towards solving the farmers' problem in the matter of kerosene for their lamps when foddering cattle in the long winter nights. The cost of this candle is approximately one penny per night.

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY

Irish Hunting

The fate of Irish hunting seems to be in the balance for the coming season.

So far I believe many of the Hunts have not yet decided upon their programme. This is due probably to the foot-and-mouth outbreak of last spring.

In the ordinary way, cub-hunting would have started at the end of this month. The late harvest has, however, held up this form of the sport of fox-hunting.

Talking of fox-hunting reminds one of the brilliant past of the Meaths; for not long ago a Meath man was recounting the number of important Americans who, in the prosperous past, followed that noted pack. Those were the days when Ireland attracted numbers of rich Americans for the hunting season.

Meath got most of them, and among such distinguished sportsmen, the names of Carroll, Morgan Grenfell, the Birds, and the Elliotts will long be remembered. The Birds still maintain the connection with Meath, but then we have seen nothing of them for a long time.

There is a war on, and hunting must bear its share of tribulation.

Landscape Hill

I see that Mr. J. C. Sullivan, Ireland's veteran sportsman, has a nice crop of foals this year at the Kilberry Stud. These are got by his own sire, Landscape Hill.

They include three nice colts, one out of Ulster Lily—an April foal. Hip Hip Hurrah is the dam of another April-foaled colt, while Lackeen produced a May colt foal. Landscape Hill is also responsible for a filly foaled in March by Wily Girl. A matron named P.T.O., the property of Mr. Sullivan, is the dam of an April filly foal, and Birthright produced a filly in June.

Other foals this year by Landscape Hill include two colts owned by Captain Hornby. One of them is a February foal—a son of Mountain Breeze.

Mr. George Flood has a bay colt out of Great Double, and Mr. Hugh O'Brien's mare, Rhinegold, is the dam of a May colt foal, and the mare, Templestella, has a filly by Landscape Hill.

Emergency Coal

The following is guaranteed to have a high-veracity content:

A local train, some five miles from a biggish junction in the south, clanked to a stand-still over a bridge that spanned a main road. The passengers, many of whom were hoping to catch the mail to Dublin, stared piteously at each other. Word went round the compartments that the firebox had gone dead from bad coal. Despair reigned, but Railway was not beaten.

The voice of the guard was heard from the permanent way: "Who owns the bike in the van?" A young man put his head out of the window and answered, "I do." "Well," pursued the guard, "would you mind gettin' it out and ridin' it over to the junction and ask them to send out an engine or we'll be here till the war's over."

Rathborne's Candles

General information, queries and answers, continue to be an evergreen feature in radio programmes, but I have not yet heard it asked if Dublin streets were ever lighted by candles. And yet, believe it or not, the answer is in the positive.

In an old issue of this newspaper I read that at one time the firm of Rathborne, the candle-makers, of East Wall, had a contract for the lighting of the main thoroughfares of the Irish capital by candle Indeed, it is claimed that when Poyning's Law was passed in 1494, the Irish Parliament was similarly lighted by Rathborne's candles. Moreover, when St. Patrick's Cathedral was restored to church use in 1553, it is probable that Rathborne's candles shed light at the Services.

It is surely an interesting point also that the candles made by this old-established local concern, which was founded as far back as 1488, were being used before pins were introduced into the British Isles.

The Grand Canal

In reference to your paragraphs on the Grand Canal (writes a correspondent), the following might be of interest. It is an extract from a memorial in Killaloe Cathedral, put up to John Grantham:—

"This memorial was erected by a few of his friends in testimony of his private worth, and as a memorial of his having made the first survey of the River Shannon, with a view to improving it, and for his having been the first who introduced steam navigation on its waters in the year 1825.

RESIGNATION OF MR. MENZIES

MR. FADDEN, PREMIER OF AUSTRALIA

CANBERRA, Thursday.—Mr. A. V. Fadden, leader of the Country Party, who was elected Premier to-day, following the resignation of Mr. R. G. Menzies, will be sworn-in to his new office to-morrow.

Mr. Menzies is formally tendering his resignation to-morrow. He announced his intention of resigning the Premiership at a Cabinet meeting to-night. This decision was conveyed to a joint meeting of the United Australia Party and the Country Party.

After Mr. Fadden had been elected to succeed him, Mr. Menzies said that he was not resigning the leadership of the United Australia Party, and announced his willingness to serve under Mr. Fadden.

Although he indicated that he was reluctant to accept the post of Australian Minister in London, it is understood that Mr. Menzies, under pressure from his colleagues, finally consented to leave for London.

Mr. Fadden announced that he would be sworn-in at 10.30 to-morrow morning. In answer to a question as to whether he would announce his Cabinet to-morrow, he said that that would depend on the leader of the United Australia Party. He would pick his own team.

Replying to another question—whether Mr. Menzies's statement that he would accept office under Mr. Fadden meant that he would go to London—Mr. Fadden stated that he could not say, but the appointment was one of the first major questions to be discussed by the new Cabinet. Cabinet meetings would be held all the week in Canberra.

Mr. Fadden added that he would see the Budget through.—(Reuter.)

Mr. Fadden is popular with all sections of the Australian people, as well as sincerely respected by the commercial and political world for his sound common-sense and executive ability. He acted as Prime Minister during Mr. Menzies's stay in Great Britain earlier this year, and is leader of the country party, the smallest of the three chief political groups.

A Press Association Diplomatic Correspondent writes:—"I learn that a report has been received from Canberra to the effect that the United Kingdom and Australian Governments have agreed that an Australian Minister, other than the Prime Minister, be sent to London as soon as possible. No confirmation could be obtained here to-night of such an approach having been made by the Australian Government."

IRISH FOOD EXPORTS

DISCUSSIONS ON CONTROL AND PRICE

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Thursday.

Mr. Maurice Foley, of the Irish Department of Agriculture, and two representatives of the trade discussed with officials of the British Ministry of Food yesterday the Ministry's proposal to set up an unofficial organisation to control the importation of all poultry and rabbits from Eire.

To-day Mr. P. A. Rogan, of the Department, met Ministry officials to discuss proposed price and other regulations regarding the export of Irish cooked meats. A representative of the Irish trade also took part.

To-morrow (Friday) representatives of the Irish Fresh Meat Shippers' Association are discussing with the Ministry the future arrangements for all exports of fresh meat.

Mr. John Dulanty, the Irish High Commissioner, is represented at the three conferences by Mr. J. N. Darcy.

HITLER MAY SPEAK SOON

ANSWER TO ANGLO-U.S. DECLARATION

ZURICH, Thursday.—Hitler may shortly make a speech in answer to the joint Anglo-American declaration, according to the political circles in Berlin, says the Berlin Correspondent of the Journal de Geneve to-day.

"He will place in their true light the eight points of the declaration, which, in German opinion, threaten European solidarity," the correspondent states.

The Wilhelmstrasse, he adds, is observing its customary silence regarding the possibility of a speech by Hitler, but it considers "that events of extraordinary importance which have occurred since Hitler's last speech render indispensable certain explanations by the Germans' most authoritative German spokesman."—(Reuter.)

DNIEPER DAM COST

£100,000,000

The Dnieper Dam, which the Russians have destroyed, was one of the greatest engineering achievements of the U.S.S.R., and cost about £100,000,000. With the dam gone, the upper reaches of the river for some 300 miles will become unnavigable to boats and rafts, leaving a flood of surging waters.

Lenin is credited with having conceived the idea of the dam, when he declared in 1921 that the Soviet must be electrified. It took five years to build and possessed nine of the largest turbine generators in the world, which gave power to the rich industrial regions of the Ukraine. It generated 890,000 h.p. The work was carried out under the guidance of American engineers. The dam widened and deepened the River Dnieper and made it navigable for over 70 miles up-river.

BRITISH RAILWAY CONTROL

GOVERNMENT'S NEW SCHEME

In view of the British Government's decision to introduce legislation putting all public utility undertakings upon the same basis as regards war damage, and in pursuance of the policy announced in the Budget speech of minimising the impact of increased costs of transport upon the prices of essential goods and services, the Government and the four main-line railway companies and the London Passenger Transport Board have, it is officially announced, agreed that the existing financial arrangements relating to the control of railways require to be modified, and negotiations have proceeded accordingly.

The Minister of War Transport now is able to announce that agreement has been reached.

FIXED PAYMENTS

The revised arrangements, which will operate from January 1, 1941, and will be continued for a minimum period of one year after the cessation of hostilities, provide for a fixed annual payment by the Government to the five controlled undertakings of £43,000,000, to be divided among them approximately as follows:—

Great Western Railway, £6,669,000; London and North-Eastern Railway, £10,148,000; London, Midland and Scottish Railway, £14,136,000; Southern Railway, £6,607,000; London Passenger Transport Board, £4,840,000.

This sum is exclusive of (a) the net amount required for interest on capital issued and capital redeemed, after the basic period of the original agreement—that is, after the end of 1937 in the case of the main line companies, and after June, 1939, in the case of the Board; and (b) the net revenue derived from investments in Road Transport undertakings, and from ownership of, and investments in, railways in Northern Ireland and Eire.

Under the revised arrangements war damage to railways will, as from the commencement of control, be dealt with under the scheme to be introduced by the Government for public utilities generally.

Corresponding adjustments in the financial terms relating to certain minor railways are under negotiation.

Full particulars of the revised financial arrangements will be laid before Parliament.

Goodbye to Grey Hair!
Look young again this easy way
Why let grey hairs put years on you? Get back your youthful looks as thousands are doing by making up this simple home mixture. Life and colour come back to your hair quickly, safely, and at trifling cost. Here's the recipe. To a bare half pint of water add one ounce of Bay Rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and a quarter ounce of glycerine. That's all! Any chemist will make it up or supply the ingredients. Apply the mixture twice weekly and your grey hair will soon glow with natural colour. Orlex isn't sticky, won't rub off, and doesn't colour the scalp. Tear out this recipe and begin saying good-bye to grey hair to-day!

AMERICAN STATES TO USE FOREIGN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Thursday. — The 21 American Republics have agreed to place in operation all foreign vessels which have taken refuge in Western Hemisphere ports, announces the Inter-American Financial and Economic Advisory Committee. The Committee has been working on the problem for seven months in an effort to alleviate the shipping shortage in U.S. waters owing to the diversion of ships carrying supplies to the Near East.

Mr. Sumner Welles, the chairman, said that he believed the action was "the most important concrete step" the Inter-American Committee had ever taken. It is "signal proof of what united efforts instead of individual efforts can do," he said. "Just and adequate" compensation will be made to the countries whose vessels are affected.

Action has been taken "to promote the defence of the economies of the American Republics, as well as the peace and security of the Continent." The British Government has agreed to recognise the transfer of the vessels which will result from the announcement and to waive its belligerent rights, providing that the ships are operated under the stipulated conditions.—(Reuter.)

Surprises in Girls' Singles

Between interruptions at Fitzwilliam yesterday, the finalists of two championship events emerged. Miss Dorothy Miley qualified to meet Miss Patience Conner in the final to-morrow, and their semi-final successes, achieved in troublesome conditions, caused a certain amount of surprise.

D. Duff, who was not a seeded player, beat R. McCabe, seeded No. 2, fairly easily in the semi-final of the junior boys' championship. G. T. Rice, the Leinster champion, beat N. Browne, winner of the Close title at Rushbrooke, in the other semi-final, but he had a hard fight in the first set, which went to twenty games. Results:—

Senior Girls' Semi-finals—D. Miley beat P. Doran, 6-1, 6-2; P. Conner beat M. Brennan, 5-7, 6-4, 7-5.

Junior Boys' Semi-finals—D. Duff beat R. McCabe, 6-2, 6-2; G. T. Rice beat N. Browne, 11-9, 6-1.

Newbury To-day

Another St. Leger Trial

ANOTHER St. Leger trial will be run at Newbury to-day, when the field for the St. Simon Stakes will be mostly composed of contenders for the last classic. Mazarin has made such improvement during the past month that he can hardly be opposed. Owen Tudor has pleased in his work since he won the New Derby. This will be his first race since June, though, and he may be in need of the outing. The same remark applies to Firoze Din, whose stamina enabled him to gain third place in the Derby. Sun Castle has impressed the Newmarket watchers of late, but I doubt whether he, or any of the others, will prove capable of stopping Mazarin's winning sequence. Selections:—

Apprentices' Handicap—Azam Pasha.
Theale Nursery—The Bold Sea Rover.
St. Simon Stakes—Mazarin (nap).
Savernake Handicap—Pure Gold.
Abingdon Handicap—Buxton.
Maiden Plate—Canarilla.
Double—Mazarin and Buxton.

Miltown Malbay

Bill Bailey Scores for New Owner

Derk failed to reproduce the good form he had shown at Dundalk when made favourite for the Spanish Point Plate at Miltown Malbay yesterday. He did not appear to relish the going on the far side of the course, and, although he improved in the later stages, he was unable to get on terms with Lone Ray. Soldier Bill, joint favourite for the Clare Hurdle, scored readily, but backers met with a bad setback in the Sandhills 'Chase, in which only three of the seven runners completed the course, the winner turning up in the rank outsider, Skin the Goat. Bill Bailey won the Stewards' Handicap for his new owner, Mrs. A. Mahoney, but Solide had all his work cut out to get the better of Vesuvian in the Seaside 'Chase. Young Princess, who had run in the first race, was pulled out again for the Miltown Malbay Plate, which she won. Details:—

MARKET REPORTS AND PRICES

GUINNESS JUMP IN DUBLIN

EFFECT OF BIGGER DISTRIBUTION

Trading was of modest dimensions on the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday, and the tendency was to mark time pending a clearer outlook. Despite the smallness of business, prices as a whole held up remarkably well.

Guinness units were the chief centre of attraction following the increase of 1 per cent. in the total distribution for the year, which was completely unexpected. The shares opened strong buyers, and jumped at one time to 85/10½, but later a little profit-taking caused an easing to 85/6. Cairnes Ord. advanced 1/6 to 9/-.

Home Government Funds were quietly maintained and British Funds held steady. Corporation issues continued in demand, and Dublin 4 per cent. 1960/85 advanced 10/- to 107.

Tobaccos were brighter, and Imperials gained 1/- at 114/-, while B.A.T. Ord. were called 1/6 higher at around 85/7½. Textiles inclined easier.

WALL STREET STEADY

STEEL INSTITUTE'S REVELATION

NEW YORK, Thursday.

The scattering of fractional advances was partially dispersed in the afternoon, when the Stock Market reverted to its state of sluggishness and spottiness. The turnover of 400,000 shares comprised 680 issues, of which 312 were higher, 185 were lower, and 183 were unchanged.

The Steels were oppressed by the American Iron and Steel Institute's revelation that the six months' net profit of 80 steel concerns was only 1 p.c. higher than for the second half of 1940, in spite of the 9 p.c. increase in production. Moreover, the Office of Production Managements compulsory precedence for defence orders is regarded as "bearish" for hundreds of consumer goods manufacturers.

The Senate Finance members' rejection of a special 10 p.c. excess profit tax levy on corporations was heartening, though it was realised that the relief was only tentative.

The market was inclined to tilt upward in the final dealings, and closed steady. —(Reuter.)

LONDON MONEY MARKET

With the conclusion of the banks' making-up arrangements, normal credit conditions returned to Lombard street yesterday. The necessity of paying for a large proportion of the bills obtained at last Friday's tender was met by readier lending on the part of the banks and a resumption of bill purchases.

Spot silver was again unchanged at 23½d., but forward was 1/16d. lower at 23 7/16d. per oz.

HIGH PRICES FOR OLD SILVER

Some high prices were paid again yesterday for antiques at the sale at the home of the late Mr. Frederick J. C. Mills, St. Jude's avenue, Belfast. Dublin, English and local bidders competed strongly.

Antique silver attracted most attention, and after keen bidding a Dublin buyer paid £80 for a choice lot of four Irish cast candlesticks (George II.) of 97 ounces, by George Walker, 1737. Another Dublin dealer gave £24 for a George II. porringer with cover (1733), while £22 was paid for a set of George III. Irish bright-cut dinner spoons. An old Sheffield Irish potato ring, decorated with sporting animals and birds, realised £16.

Boxing

James Qualifies To Meet Boon

Ronnie James, light-weight champion of Wales, became No. 1 challenger for Eric Boon's British title by outpointing Harry Lazar (Aldgate) over eight rounds at the Royal Albert Hall, London, yesterday. It was a tame fight, and the referee, Mr. Moss Deyong, spoke to the men in the fourth round.

Nel Tarleton (Liverpool), holder of the British feather-weight title, gave an almost faultless display in outpointing Billy Alker (Stratford). Tarleton's right cheek-bone had a slight cut in the fourth round, but he was never unduly worried in a contest which was marked by the champion's skill in delivering and avoiding a punch.

Harry Muzler beat Eddie Ryan on points; Pat Palmer beat Joe Davis (fight stopped); Johnny Ward (Ireland) beat Douglas Bygrave on points; Jack Hyams beat Dave McCleane on points.

Ernie Roderick (Liverpool) will defend his British welter-weight championship against Arthur Danahar (Bethnal Green) at the Royal Albert Hall, London, on September 29.

LONDON VIEW OF GUINNESS

BOARD CONFIDENT IN FUTURE

The London Stock Markets, as a whole, had a steady appearance yesterday, with the total volume of business of rather small proportions, but there were several good features prominent, among them being Guinness units, which soon established a rise over the overnight price, though they failed to hold all the advance.

The increase of one per cent. in the distribution was not the only factor, sentiment being strengthened by the increase having been made in spite of a decline of £200,000 in the net profits, this being taken as an indication of the confidence of the directors in the future trading position.

British Funds were better in places.

Japanese Stocks were higher on the news that the Bank of England and the British Treasury had agreed to unfreeze the amounts required for the payment of the half-yearly coupons on the City of Tokyo 5 per cent Loan, 1912, and the Japanese 5 per cent Loan, 1907. This means that the coupons due on September 1st and September 12th respectively will be duly met.

British Rails were quieter. It is now believed that the details of the agreement between the Government and the companies will not be published until the sittings of Parliament have been resumed.

In the Industrial market Guinness units were in the limelight, and, after changing hands up to 86/4½, finished with a rise of 2/- on the day at 85/-, business having been fairly active throughout the day, with a little selling in the latter part of the session. Ind Coopes were 6d. to the good with Bass and Watneys unchanged.

Tobaccos held their strength to the end "Imps" were finally 1/16 to the good at 5¾ with "Bats also 1/16 up at 4 5/16. Carreras, at 4 15/16, were 1/32 higher. Iron and Steel shares were quietly steady. In the Motor group, Fords put on 1½d. to a guinea, but Standard and Triplex Glass were easier. Imperial Chemicals were inquired for on a fair scale, and closed 6d. up at 31/7½. Dunlops and "Emmies" were both higher, and Turner and Newalls improved 7½d.

Among Kaffirs, West Wits were 3/32 up at 4 23/32, and Western Reefs rose 9d. to 36/9, with Western Holdings 3d. to the good. Ventersposts put on 1/3 at 36/3, Libanon rose 9d and Blyvoors were 6d. to the good. Among the big Kaffirs, East Geduids were good with a rise of ⅛.

There was not a great amount of business in Oils where Anglo-Iranians and Burmahs put on 7½d. "Shells" were sold, and lost 1/3 to 49/4½. Canadian Eagles were the turn harder, with Mexicans unchanged.

COMPANY NEWS

Salts (Ireland), Ltd. (manufacturers of worsted yarns), have decided to postpone the payment of dividend on the 5 per cent. Cum. Pref. shares. At the end of last year a dividend from the date of issue to June, 1940, was declared. Net profits for the year to September 30, 1940, were as high as £28,094, and 23.8 was earned on the Ordinary, though nothing was paid on them. At the meeting in January last the chairman stated that the Board was watching every development, and would not lose any opportunity of securing orders to run their machinery to its capacity. The Pref. are at present on offer at 19/-, and the "A" Ord. at 5/-, but there are no buyers.

Smyth and Co.—It is understood that an interim dividend of 3 per cent. has been declared on the Ordinary shares. Last year's interim was the same, followed by a final of 5 per cent.

British Power and Light.—Interim 2 per cent. (same).

British Oxygen Co.—Interim 7 per cent. (same).

British Power and Light.—Interim 2 per cent. (same).

Barrow Barnsley Main Collieries.—Dividend 2½ per cent. (same).

Eastwoods Cement.—Net profit £206 up at £28,537. Final dividend increased from 6 p.c. to 7½ p.c., making a total of 12½ p.c. (against 11 p.c.).

Leyland and Birmingham Rubber.—Total dividend 10 per cent. and bonus 2½ per cent. (same); £99,478 (against £118,734).

Malacca Rubber Plantations.—First and final dividend on Cum. Part. stock of 7½ per cent.; also first and final dividend on Ord. of 4 per cent. (against 2½ per cent.); net profit £102,127 (against £50,823).

Prudential Assurance.—Interim 12½ p.c., tax free, on the "A" Shares (same)

Ransome and Marles Bearing.—Final dividend 11 per cent., making 20 per cent. (same); net profit £113,295.

Sheepbridge Coal and Iron.—Net profits are reduced from £222,166 to £117,236. Final dividend of 5 per cent. will make a total of 9 per cent., tax free (against 10 per cent.).

Thorn Electrical Industries.—Dividend of 20 per cent. on the Ord. (same).

Trinidad Central Oilfields.—Net profit £40,571, compared with £35,922. Dividend 7 per cent. (same).

Telephone Rentals. — Revenue £10,640 higher at £145,172. Final dividend 6 p.c., making 10 p.c. (same).

Upsons.—Interim 4 per cent. (against 5 per cent.).

DUBLIN VEGETABLE — Light supply cleared fairly well at:—York cabbage large 22/6 to 62/-, small 8/- to 32/- per load; swedes 2/6 to 3/6 per cwt., lettuce 1/- to 1/10, cauliflowers 3/- to 5/-, seconds 1/3 to 1/6; marrows and cucumbers 4/- to 6/- per dozen, beet 2/-, rhubarb 2/6 to 3/6 per dozen bundles, parsnips 10/- to 15/- per bag, onions 1/- to 3/- per bunch, 30/- to 40/- per bag; celery 1/- to 2/- per bundle, scallions 1/6, peas 16/- to 22/- per sack, 8/- to 14/- per bag; tomatoes 10/- to 14/- per chip, and mushrooms 1/6 to 2/6 per lb.

DUBLIN POTATO—Good supplies, with demand fair at the following easier prices: Queens 7/6 and Epicures 6/6 per cwt.

GRIMSBY FISH.—Lemon soles, plaice, and hake, 16/6; halibut, 22/-; dabs, 16/6; smoked haddocks, 15/6; smoked fillets, 22/3; smoked codling, 15/6 per stone; haddocks, sprags, codling, coalfish, dogfish, catfish, and cod, 8/- per stone, with heads on.

WOOL

BRADFORD.—New business in yarns is rather scarce. Any orders on offer for export section are keenly competed for and buyers can often get concessions on quoted rates. The negotiations now proceeding with regard to concentration have tendency to hold up business for the time being.

GALWAY FAIR DATES

What was described as the wholesale muddling of dates for Galway Fairs was mentioned by Alderman M. O'Flaherty at Galway Corporation yesterday. It was stated that buyers had come from Cork recently to find that a fair which was due was not held. It was decided to abandon August fairs in future and to have the dates of the September fairs broadcast and advertised in the daily and local newspapers.

CORK SCHOLARSHIPS

The following are the recommendations for award of University College, Cork, Scholarships, 1941, based on the Leaving Certificate results:—

Cork City Scholarships—John C. Finn (North Monastery); Wm. K. Horgan (do.).

Kerry County Council Scholarships—T. B. Counihan (St. Brendan's Seminary, Killarney); Joan Daly (Colaiste Brighde, Falcarragh).

Waterford County Council Scholarships—John Gaynor (C.B.S., Carrick-on-Suir); Monica M. Roche (Convent of Mercy, Carrick-on-Suir); Ailbe O Maoileoin (Newtown School, Waterford).

Co. Tipperary (S.R.) Scholarships—Owen O'Hara (C.B.S., Thurles); Mary Ryan (Loreto Convent, Killarney); P. J. Delaney (Mount Melleray Seminary, Cappoquin).

COMPANY MEETING.

BEECHAMS PILLS, LIMITED

LARGE EXPANSION IN TRADE

The annual general meeting of Beechams Pills, Ltd., was held yesterday in London. Mr. Philip E. Hill (the chairman) said: For the ninth successive year our trading profits show an increase. The profit for the year amounts to £1,085,893, which is comparable with £1,055,615 for the preceding year. This figure is arrived at after providing in the accounts of two of the subsidiary companies £37,758 for the redemption of Redeemable Preference Shares (you will appreciate that this cost the company, including tax, some £195,000). In addition, we have increased our reserves and carry forward in the accounts of subsidiary companies. Moreover, we have not raised our selling prices since the outbreak of war, although our costs of production and overheads during the year under review have increased by nearly £350,000, as compared with 1939, so I am sure you will agree that when all these things are taken into consideration we have every reason to be satisfied with the results achieved.

The company's normal trade, both at home and overseas, without accounting for Government contracts, shows considerable expansion. Our export trade has, of course, been handicapped by war conditions, although we are exceedingly fortunate that the development of this part of our business lies within the Empire and North and South America.

THE NEW ACT

Our report and accounts indicate that our contribution to the National Exchequer for the year is estimated to amount to over £1,000,000. Since we last met Parliament has passed the Pharmacy and Medicines Act, 1941, one of the results of which will be the abolition of the medicine stamp duty as and from the 2nd September next, which, as far as this company is concerned, amounted last year to £166,000. Generally, it is hoped that the new Act will improve the status of proprietary articles and patent medicines. The directors have decided that the full benefit of the savings effected as a result of the passing of this Act shall be given to the public.

It is no easier to forecast the future to-day than it was a year ago, but it is necessary to issue a word of warning, and that is—if costs of production continue to increase, we shall ultimately be bound to raise selling prices. Whatever the future may have in store for us, we can be more than ever satisfied that our widespread developments have established our business on a sound basis.

The report was unanimously adopted.

WATCH YOUR LARDER

BURGLARS IN DUBLIN

Special "Irish Times" News.

A lowering of moral standards, due to war-time conditions, unemployment, and, to some extent, a youthful craze for the films, are regarded as contributing factors to a wave of crime in Dublin.

On the criminal side the courts virtually are choked with work, and the police say that in the last twelve months conditions in the city have doubled their labours. Juvenile crime has increased to an alarming extent, and complaints of house-breaking and petty thieving are arising in serious numbers each week.

In the last few months a new type of crime has demanded the attention of the police—the stealing of foodstuffs. Tea, sugar, tinned foods, and other commodities both scarce and dear, have become more sought after by young burglars than watches and valuable jewellery. Already investigations have resulted in arrests being made in respect of over eighty housebreakings where foodstuffs have been taken in preference to valuables, and there are hundreds of others which still are being inquired into. In the District Court twenty-six of these cases were formally opened, and the defendants were remanded under detention.

THE PICTURES

A police officer informed an Irish Times reporter that juveniles—lads between twelve and sixteen—are mainly responsible for the great amount of petty pilfering that now is going on. "There has been a great change in types in the last eight or ten years," he said. "The young housebreakers of to-day are hardened criminals—at least they act as if they were. They are much more ingenious, their methods are much more highly developed, and they are, by far, more difficult to detect than were those of a few years back. I think that the craze for the films has a good deal to do with it, because a large percentage of them, when they find confession to be their best policy, attribute their downfall to a desire to get money for the pictures. This new type of criminal will take tea, sugar or foodstuffs, or break a gas meter for 2s., before they will think of taking a ring valued at £30.

"It is alleged by the youths themselves that they sell the foodstuffs on the streets and to dealers, but we believe that fully three-quarters of the stolen property is consumed in their own homes. The great majority of house-breakings have occurred between 6 p.m. and 11 p.m., while people still are walking about in the streets, and not much notice is likely to be taken of the youths. Invariably they gain entrance to houses through the back, having first ascertained that the premises are unoccupied, and in instances where the occupants have left only for a short time they have been known to bar the doors from the inside to ensure that they will not be interrupted during their search of the rooms.

Clever devices have been introduced to ascertain if people are on holidays where a house has been marked down for thieving, one of the most effective being to knock at the door at different periods during the day and evening with a glib question should it happen to be answered. No reply after several approaches is regarded as a fairly safe indication that the premises are empty."

During the last couple of months members of the L.S.F. have been assisting the police in night patrols, but very little crime of this character is carried out at night. They also have been keeping a nightly vigil in areas where vegetables plots have become objects for plunder, but in spite of their vigilance some pilfering still goes on, and plotholders have been forced to prematurely remove their more valuable crops, such as onions.

Pilfering of orchards recently was described by a judge of the District Court as "sabotage," and it is evident that stiff penalties will be imposed where convictions are obtained for the thieving of foodstuffs.

Incidentally, in one burglary case heard in the courts yesterday, the values of 4lb. of tea and ½lb. of cocoa, which had been stolen, were given as 12s. and 9d. respectively!
